One reason Governor Herter will not allow the Legislature to prorogue without enacting at least a major part of the proposed reforms in the State's penal system is that there is a great deal of apprehension as to what the reaction would be among the prison inmates, if nothing

Authorities familiar with conditions at the State prison in Charlestown are fearful that riots and revolts, with possible bloodshed and loss of life, would be likely to occur there, if the convicts read that the legislators conclude their business and go home for the year without acting on the recommendations that have been advanced.

That is why the Governor is insisting that the program submitted by his special blue ribbon committee be put into effect as quickly as possible. It is why he will hold the lawmakers in session, preventing them from Nv. Methodist Church Adult

Ordinarily, a Governor would not insist on immediate action on prison changes so sweeping and drastic at the beginning of the summer, when the Legislature at the beginning of the summer, when the Legislature was almost ready to wind up its deliberations and bring its ses-

Subscription Television

A hot controversy has been raging for some years in this country over the question of subscription television. One of the proponents of subscription television is a major radio corporation in Chicago, and it has carried its battle for proper subscription television to the Federal Communications Commission, to newspaper editors and to the public.

The arguments for subscription television and against subscription television are most interesting. Subscription tele-vision advocates believe the inauguration of subscription television will enable viewers to bring entertainment into their own home which advertisers cannot afford. Such programs would include the Metropolitan Opera, multi-million dollar movies, Broadway plays, and possibly even programs originating abroad, in time.

Moreover, proponents of subscription television believe that this system would allow independent television stations to actually be independent, in that they will not be solely dependent upon several major networks for their top-quality

There is no denying the fact that many theatre owners are wary of the prospects of subscription television, feeling that if viewers could see the new movies in their homes, it might seriously affect business. Added to this possible objection is the possible objection that sponsors may eventually be able to bring all desirable programs to the public-when television sets are in the hands of practically every family.

We do not think it a healthy situation when several large networks have so much control over independent television stations. If the Federal Communications Commission set up an impartial subscription television central office, which would insure that all citizens would have a right to buy whatever entertainment and programming they chose, subscription tele-vision might be an added advantage to

However, if advertisers would eventually provide these programs free, we would prefer this, in that the poorest citizen would have access--if he had a television set—to the finest cultural and entertainment programming available, just as his rich neighbor.

The proper solution is probably for subscription television to be made available so that it can be utilized for programs which do not capture the public's fancy but which are highly desired by a small minority of viewers. Such programming would include, for example, the Metropolitan Opera's programs, which the general public is not likely to appreciate widely enough to warrant a sponsor's

But the Charlestown prison is a powder keg that could explode without warning into demonstrations much more serious than the revolt which occurred there last

Wisecracking Teddy Green has been shipped to Alcatraz. But there are men still in Charlestown much more desperate and dangerous than was Green, who was not regarded as a killer, and much more likely to shoot, if a gun came into their Conditions at the Charlestown prison, bad at any time of the year, must be almost unbearable during a heat spell such as we have had, with a searing sun beating down on the dirt-stained grey bastille, with unemptied slop buckets in cells from late afternoon until early morning, with an undercurrent of electric tension.

You may be certain that the inmates at Charlestown are better informed about what is happening in the prison contro-versy on Beacon Hill than is any ordinary, free citizen with other things on his mind.

Whatever happens will make an impact on their way of life behind peniten-tiary walls. Every line that is written in newspapers, every word that is spoken over the radio concerning the plan for changing things in the prison where they are confined, would be digested, pondered over and discussed.

These men are politically conscious. Disturbances invariably occur after par-don and parole applications are acted upon, if there is the slightest evidence of favoritism, and these uneasy convicts can

The prisoners know that when the Legislature prorogues later this summer it will not reconvene again until the first Wednesday of next January, and from August to January is a long time, if you're forced to spend it in a prison and most of it in a small cell, where the stifling odors are worsened by the summer heat.

No one can foretell exactly what would happen, but the fears that disturbances would break out, that riots might occur, that escapes might be attempted, are certainly not without some foundation.

Governor Herter shoulders a grave responsibility in such a situation. But so do press the program of reforms advocated by his committee after a long and exhaustive study.

who is wrong. It is not improbable that his own sympathies would rest with the members of the political party with which he is affiliated.

But this much can be said. The Wessell Committee explored this problem in great detail over a period of months. They didn't simply sit dowr by themselves and give expression to their own thoughts and give expression to their own thoughts and ideas. They sought opinions and observations wherever they could get them.

They went to the prison and observed conditions first-hand. They talked with the convicts and visited their cells. They questioned guards and high correction department officials. They even called in than by the federal government. newspaper reporters who cover the peniteniary and got their ideas.

The changes they propose admittedly are drastic and far-reaching. Maybe some of them go too far. But the prison situation in Massachusetts is one that seemingly cries out for drastic action. and until it is shown otherwise, it must be assumed that these men know what they are talking about.

It is expecting a great deal to ask legislators to absorb these problems in a Maine. Miss Ellen J. you, it does to us as well. In attempting to clarify his position, Hariman usually has succeeded in making it a little more confusing. Publicly, he states that he will support Stevenson but that he will seek the nomination himself, if Stevenson can't get it. Privately, he apparently is trying to make sure that Stevenson doesn't get it.
This week in Washington Carmen De-

Sapio, leader of New York's Tammany Hall and Harriman's political godfather, indicated that Harriman will be a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination next year and made no secret of his own coolness toward Stevenson. DeSapio called on men in both the Democratic and Republican parties, obviously meaning Stevenson and President Eisenhower, to stop being "coy" and an-nounce whether they want to run for the Presidency. He declared that the big New York State delegation probably will go to the Democratic convention pledged to Harriman. DeSapio said he would take whatever candidate the majority prefers, but that, of course, was what is known as the political swerve, since most of the New York delegates will take the candidate he wants.

If De Sapio is not getting ready to throw a road block ir front of Stevenson, then appearances are very deceiving.

The surname is the Anglo-Norman origin, and it was given to makers of outer garments. The word comes from the French "tailleur" (to cut). This Norman-English occupa-tional name was anglicized by the Saxon-English to tailor and taylor. However, many of the Germanic Britons continued to give persons engaged in this occupation, the German equivalent of Taylor which is Schneider, anglicized to Snyder.

The bearers of this surname have engaged themselves in places that today seem quite remote from the original meaning of this surname. #### WATERTOWN FEDERAL HOME MORTGAGE IS A FRIENDLY THING

Some folks dread a mortgage.
They don't know that a Watertown Federal mortgage can be a friendly, human, helpful aid to comfortable ownership of a home.

You just drop in and tell the Watertown Federal folks your plans to buy, build, improve or refinance your home. You tell them about your job or other income and they help you arrive at a comfortable monthly payment which will take care of your interest, 1/12th of your year's taxes, and a partial reduction of your loan.

Home loans are Watertown Federal's business

Home loans are Watertown Federal's business—not a side line, 90% of all their resources go into home mortgages.

The only Mutual Thrift Institution in the Watertown-Newton-Belmont area offering insurance of savings accounts through a permanent agency of the United States Government.

It will be a bang up time for the Lit-tle Leaguers. The major leagues will play for the championship -the White Sox who won the first half will play the winners of the second half—the minor league will have the Orioles battling the Redlegs to decide the season's top team.

Next Saturday will be the last game for the Newton West Minors and will find the Orioles pitted against the Redlegs to decide the champions for the eason, Both teams have won six games this season. The Pirates are in third place with four wins.

The winning pitchers of the last games were Dave Kallock of the Orioles and Charlie Paine of the Redlegs.

WCRB Programs For July Are Announced

WCRB Feature Presenta tions for the month of July will be drawn from exclusive WCRB coverage of two recent Greater Boston musical events the Fourth Annual Boston Arts Festival and the third Brandels University Festival of Creative Arts. Outstanding musical events from both festivals will be presented binaurally each Saturday afternoon in July at 5 o'clock. The program on the 2nd of July will feature excerpts from the con-cert given June 14th at 8:30 p.m. in the Boston Public Garden by the Guiliana Chorale which just recently returned from a State Department sponsored tour of France.

The Feature Presentation on July 9th will be a portion of the Brandeis University Fes-tival of Creative Arts and will contain a rebroadcast of Tip pett's Divertimento on "Sellin ger's Round" to be performed by the Brandels University Festival Orchestra, Izler Solomon conducting. Also on this same program Darius Milhaud will be heard conducting his own Concerto for Percussion and Small Orchestra and his Wedding Cantata in which Miss Adele Addison, soprano, will be featured as soloist.

Further excerpts from this same Brandels University Festival Concert, which took place originally on Thursday, June 9th, at Brandeis University's Sth, at Brandeis University's Shapiro Athletic Center, will be heard on the WCRB Feature Presentation of Saturday, July 16th. All performances will be by the Brandeis University Festival Orchestra, Izler Solomon conducting, and will include Mozart's Haffner Serenade and Arthur Berger's Serenade and Arthur Berger's Serenade Concertante. During this broadcast Richard L. Kaye WCRB's Program Director, will speak briefly with Mr. Sam. Marcus, president of the Bos-ton Local of the Musicians' Union, regarding the activities in cooperation with the Boston Arts Festival.

SYMBOLIZING the change of leadership of the Board of Directors of the Newton Y.M.C.A. for the period ahead, Frederick S. Bacon, left, passes on the president's gavel to George R. Strandberg, right, incoming president of the Newton Y.M.C.A. Mr. Bacon, who has headed the Newton "Y" as president since 1942, was the 17th president of the Newton "Y", now in its 78th year of activity. New officers were installed at a special dinner meeting held June 22 at the "Y."

Thought Oil Man Made Mistake"

Says Richard Oberschulte*

"Our fuel bill was so low, we thought the oil man had made a mistake. We checked and found our dealer was right when he said we could expect big fuel savings with our new G-E Oil Furnace." Luxury comfort with famous G-E Air-Wall Heating System.

HOW YOU CAN SAVE, TOO!

Replace your Pickpocket Furnace with a fa-mous G-E Oil Furnace. Fuel savings pay for it! Here's why:

Burns all the oilt G-E "Turn-Back Flame" gets more heat out of oil. Burns clean—completely. Less heat lost up chimney.

Heats your home faster! No long oil-devouring wait... you're cozy-warm in minutes! G-E "Spira-Flow" section trans-fers heat fast from oil flame

ELECTRIC FREE! for greater comfort and lower fuel bills. check box below TOWN OIL PRDUCTS

In 1939, the book, Alcoholics Anonymous, from which the fellowship was named, became public. The illness of alcoholism was presented from the alcoholic's point of view, and the spritual concepts of the groups were summarized for the first time in the Twelve Steps. The help for the alcoholic in his apparently hopeless dilemma was lucidly set forth.

To appreciate the nature and extent of alcoholism, it is nec-essary to realize that there is a large mass of misinformation and misconceptions that casual incoherent thinkers have accepted is the irrevocable status of the alcoholic. If one believes that it stems from moral turpitude alone—that the alcoholic is a bad person—then moral deviations should be punished not only by imprisonment but by attitude and words as well. If one believes, as A.A. members do, that alcoholism is an illness—mental, physical, and spi-ritual — then punishment will

"The argument that a state medical school is needed to educate poor boys to become doctors is fallacious for our three Class A medical schools now go to great length to assist with scholarships and part time employment aids boys of meager means who are qualifled to become doctors.

"Several years ago the General Court provided that only graduates of medical schools approved by the American Medical Society or of the osteomathic schools pathic schools approved by the American Osteopathic Association should be eligible to take the examinations for registration as a physician. There are three such schools in Massachu-setts, at Harvard, Boston University and Tufts, which are among the best in the country. This Act closed two sub-standard medical schools and we had a terrific fight to keep them closed. The most compelling reason why those schools could not qualify wa slack of clinical facilities for their students and a lack of qualified medical teachers. It is extremely doubtful that there is any appreciable increase in clinical facilities or of qualified mediteachers since that time sufficient to justify another medical school.

"The University of Massachusetts is a very fine institu-tion in which we all can take a just pride. It ranks among the best state universities in the country. At the present time it has many very pressing needs; new buildings, more housing for its rapidly grow-ing student body, and better

Cancer Cut

You have read recently that the House Committee on Appropriations will recommend to the Senate Committee a cut of $4,000,000 in a $26,000,000 budget for cancer research. Congressman Fogarty of Providence is chairman of this group and Congressman Taber of Auburn, N. Y., a member.

In this year of five year stock piles of Navy hamburger and astronomical loans to bankrupt nations, $4,000,000 seems minute, particularly in view of the effect

Chemical, as opposed to surgical, treatment of cancer is being successfully used in treatment of many forms of the disease. Progress is being made daily in the exten-sion of the field of these chemicals which are discovered through research made possible by just such grants as the committee intends to drastically cut.

Not only does such a cut prevent new research, but it curtails research in progress and nearing completion. Projects must be dropped and new ones forgotten and, most tragic, the day of science's triumph over cancer projected still further into the future.

Pitifully, the forms of cancer must frequently found in children, such as leu-kemia, are most effectively treated chem-ically. There is no surgical technique. Surely a card, letter or telegram to Congressman Fogarty or Taber's Committee on Appropriations is in order.

Everyone who has witnessed the untold suffering of cancer victims and those who have been spared such a sight, should do all in their power to urge extensive research. And it should be remembered that cancer is no respecter of the individual. It can strike any or all of us.

The Kids Must Be Amused

Most parents shy away from the idea of taking their children on a long automobile trip, but youngsters can enjoy traveling as much as adults, given the

The major task is to keep them amused and occupied. If you sustain their inter-est and stop often for rest, your young-sters will not be a problem on the annual family trip.

Older children, who may have helped plan the trip, can keep track of road maps, mileage, points of interest visited, and road and route signs. Younger ones should be provided with small toys, games and books. An exceptionally good trick is to dole out new toys purchased just for the trip to restore peace when tempers wear thin.

Most important when traveling with youngsters is to remember they are not used to being confined for long periods. Stop every few hours for exercise and it is a good idea to let the children out whenever you stop for gas, to enjoy a view, or to check your route, even if it's only for a few minutes.

Remember, you are on your vacation, not a cross-country auto race.

The Paper Snowstorm

In Washington this summer when it's hot, and the year around, when it's not, there's a veritable blizzard raging. It is a blizzard of paper, correspondence, reports, copies in duplicate and triplicate, mimeographed forms. More than 750,000 full-time government workers are creating and handling at least 25,000,000,000 pieces of paper a year.

Reporting on this to Congress, the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, says that this paperwork storm costs us taxpayers about $400,000,000 a year, an estimated $100 a year in taxes to the average American family of four.

The Hoover Commission's economy program, if adopted, would cut an estimated $255,000,000 worth of that red

Massachusetts Leads

The National Safety Council has just announced its reports of motor vehicle operations for the first five months of 1955 showing that the Commonwealth of Massachusetts' death rates for the period are 9.4 per 100,000 population, first place in the nation, and 3.3 per 100 million miles of vehicle operation, a second place tie with Maine, among all states of the nation.

A comparison of the Massachusetts rates with those of the country as a whole indicate an outstanding achievement in accident prevention programming. On the population basis, the national rate is 22.7 as against 9.4 while the national rate of 6.7 in the mileage basis is more than double that of the 3.3 rate for the Bay

New On Wheels

In Holland, where bicycles are used by a large percentage of the population, William Hazenburg has come up with a new invention. It consists of a spring which operates on the principle of a wheel.

The large spring is attached to the back wheel of the bicycle and, as the pedaller pedals, he also winds the spring. It is estimated that after he pedals one block, he can coast five blocks, as the spring unwinds.

The invention is very light, weighing only a few pounds. It was recently demonstrated by Hazenburg in Holland. Hazenburg is improving his invention and seeking a patent. It is estimated that the device would cost about $40 in American money.

Girls go to the beaches to see and be seen; men go to see and swim.

In Hazenburg's demonstration, he successfully rode for three miles without doing any pedalling, after having pedalled the bicycle the first part of his journey, which also wound the spring. He has per-fected his device so that it automatically disengages when the spring is fully wound, and has an indicator on the handlebars which shows how much stored energy there is in the device at any time.

This invention shows that many improvements are still possible for conventional means of transport, even though we are in the jet age. The spring device utilizes nothing which was not available years ago. It is a much-needed contraption and we wonder why someone didn't think of it years ago.

It's likely that Washington residents would gladly settle for a two-cent fare increase, if their buses and street cars would resume regular runs. Louis Wolson, central figure in the Montgomery-Ward battle earlier this year, is the owner of Washington's transit sys-tem and is the storm centre in a bitter row developing in Congress over his operation of that line.

Until Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas was striken recently with a severe heart attack, political observers in Washington had marked him as the potential Presidential candidate the conservative Democrats might back most successfully against Adlai Stevenson.

He had done an excellent job this year as the majority leader in the Senate, harnessing together the various elements and factions, depending on personal cloak room contacts to keep party friction at a

Johnson could have depended upon the support of the entire South, except for Tennessee, where Senator Kefauver again may be a candidate, and he was enough of a liberal to draw substantial support in the North, particularly from Democrats who are cool both to Stevenson and Governor Averell Harriman.

He was the choice of his fellow Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn, the most powerful Democrat on Capitol Hill, who will wield tremendous influence at next year's Democratic national convention.

Senator Johnson had demonstrated his ability to persuade the Southern con-servatives and the Northern liberals to work together in the Senate, and it was felt that he might be able to do the same thing in next year's Presidential cam-

Now, however, it is highly improbable that he will be physically able to run in 1956. Indeed, there is considerable doubt as to whether he will be able to resume his duties even next year as the Democratic leader in the Senate. And the man behind whom the anti-Stevenson forces might have rallied effectively is apparently out of the Presidential picture.

President Eisenhower unquestionably bowed to Democratic pressure in ordering the cancellation of the Dixon-Yates contract, but in doing so he probably strintract, the Democrats of what loomed as one of their big issues for the 1956 cam-

Even though Democratic orators are now describing the President's action as "surrender," the fact is that the matter in all likelihood will be dead as far as any public interest is concerned a year from now.

Cancellation of the contract at this time in 1956 would have exploded a political bombshell, the detonations of which might well have carried over into the autumn campaign. But the President seemingly has refrigerated what might have been a political hot potato in 1956.

Thrift is popular everywhere

Personally, I've always tried to save money, no matter what the times. I've always been sure money would come in handy, some day.

People are saving more than ever

A lot more folks are now agreeing with me. Savings accounts are increasing almost everywhere. People don't feel the urge now to spend "before things go up." They believe thrift will have its rewards.

So, get your spare dollars and Watertown Federal together.

Second Car He Ever Owned!

Time was when a man wouldn't have considered a Cadillac until he had owned four—or five—or even six different motor cars.

happy man you see in the picture above-are stepping right up from their first car to a Cadillac.

But nowadays more and more motorists-like the

There are, we think, two basic reasons for this wonderful change. To begin with, the temptation to make the move to Cadillac has never been greater than it is today.

The car's arresting grace and beauty . . . its captivating luxury and graciousness . . . and its heart-win-ning performance have all been brought to new peaks of perfection for 1955.

And secondly, the path to Cadillac has never before been so clearly marked or so easily traveled.

Take original cost, for instance. The purchase price of the lowest-priced Cadillac is actually little more than many models in the medium-price field.

And then consider Cadillac's economy. Few automobiles of any size or make will travel farther on a gallon of gasoline . . . and the car is all but free from any save the most routine costs of maintenance.

And, finally, there is the car's resale value. Year after year, Cadillac cars return their owners a higher percentage on their original investments than any other automobiles in the land. So if you want a Cadillac-don't feel that you have to advance gradually to the car of cars.

If you are ready to make the move, the automobile you now own is the perfect steppingstone. Why not stop in soon and see for yourself? You'll find that we have some very pleasant news for you about cost and delivery.

One of the soundest and most rarely disputed point in tical axioms is that the voters do not change a Presidential administration, when the nation is enjoying a period of a deliver just one measuring cup short on each five gallons, the purchasers of such gasoline

That is why even the most realistic Republicans are looking ahead to 1956 with so much confidence and why they are not overly disturbed by such developments as the cancellation of the Dixon-Yates contract, the resignation nation of Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby and the inquiry into the business affairs of Secretary of the Air Harold E.

The GOP pundits anticipate with considerable logic nd reason that all other political issues will be overhadowed and dwarfed in next year's campaign, if the nation remains at peace and economic prosperity continues at its present high level.

President Eisenhower, they believe, will have to hammer on just two points in asking the voters to reelect him to a second term: 1: That he brought the war in Korea to an end. 2. That the business recession so widely forcest has not occurred.

Newton's 9 Brooks A $157,000 long-range brook and drain clearing project-designed to prevent inundation of homes by water overflowing during torrential downpours, such as last year's Hurricane Edna—received the approval of the Board of Aldermen Monday night.

Chief item in the 3-year flood control project is $100,000 for clearing and paving with con-crete South Meadow Brook between Needham street and Dedham street in Newton High-

About 3000 feet of the brook is scheduled to be clearned of tangled growth and debris, and then the brook will be lined with concrete to prevent further growth. Three feet of weeds and debris will be cleared to return the brook to its natural grade.

The clearing and lining project is designed to allow the brook to carry its designed capacity. This will keep the brook from overflowing into nearby cellars of homes and the Countryside School, 'except in the event of a very abnormal de-

Funds for this work will come from a $700,000 sewer and drain bond issue authorized earlier this year by the aldermen.

Also approved Monday night was a $56,900 appropriation for the cleaning and maintenance of brooks, culverts and drains. Of this sum, $12,400 is earmarked for cleaning of the most troublesome secondary drains, and $6000 will go for the cleaning of catch basins.

The bulk of the appropriation will be used for cleaning, mainenance and repairs to brooks,

Gasoline Powered Equipment Pass Swimming Can Be Dangerous Says Chief

This is the time of year when the use of outboard motors, gasoline powered lawn mowers, and other small gasoline powered portable equipment is in full swing. While only relatively small amounts of gasoline are involved, we should repint of gasoline, spilled on the floor, vaporized and ignited, can cause fatal results. For example, Chief John E. #### Rawson Attacks State Entering Insurance Field

"Such a deluge of letters and postal cards opposing House Bill 1623, the so-called Compulsory Cash Sickness Insurance Bill, has come to me that it is a physical impossibility to answer them all as is my usual custom," Rep. George E. Raw-son of Newton announced this week.

"I have always opposed this type of legislation and will continue to do so," he explained in a statement to the Graphic. "For four years I led the successful fight to kill similar bills in the House in 1949 through "The real purpose underlying this year's bill, as in the past, is still the establishment of a state fund for this kind of insurance. I am unalterably op posed to government entering any kind of business. Free private enterprise is a cornerstone of my creed. "Historically, Great Britain began in 1906 with government entering this field of insurance coverage and went straight down the primrose path to state socialism. Let us learn by her example and not let it happen

"There is no real demand," he contended, "for government entering this field. Seventyeight per cent of our workers are now covered by such insurance on voluntary plans carried with a large number of competing insurance companies, both stock and mutual, and all subject to regulations by our competent Massachusetts Insurance Department. The remainder can thus be covered.

"It is not a new idea. The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has voluntarily covered its employees free of charge to them for over 50 years. Many other companies insure their employees and pay the entire premium. In no case does the employer pay less than half of the premium.

"It is rather interesting," continued the Newton repre-sentative, "to note that the employees of numerous companies have cash sickness insurance which they have won by collective bargaining, which is surely an accepted American way of doing business—the rest can do likewise.

"All of these plans are broader and more generous than a state fund could be. They are constantly being improved because of the keen competition of various insurance companies. No group is too small, and in fact it is possible for a single individual to obtain coverage for himself and his dependents. "No compulsory law is needed. The state has quite enough to do with Unemployment Com-pensation, which has not worked out too well in the past. In fact, it has been a hard fight to keep the rate of premium charged from endangering the competitive position of Massachusetts industry.

"Let us go along with free competitive private industry," he urged, "and keep away trom anything which can open the way to state socialism."

The figures show that Canadians spent more money in this country last year ($311 million than Americans spent in Canada ($284 million).

Even more surpring is the number of Canadian visits across the border. In 1953, the figure was 23,300,000 while the number of American visits to Canada that year was 28,025,000. Since the population of Canada is only 15 million, it's clear that a good many Canadians are ily together. With secrecy, they're not likely to get the public support needed to assure con-

The Hoover Commission comments: Failure to produce certain elements of intelligence has been due in part to the restrictive effects of some of our national attitude and policies toward the collection of intelligence so necessary to effective resistance to Soviet aggression."

However, the commission isn't ready to assign the agencies to the limbo of mediocrity which often is the fate of government activities misunderstood or ignored by the people.

It proposes that a watch-dog system be set up to check on the operations and expenditures of intelligence agencies. The system would include two groups, a joint Congresional committee on foreign intelligence and a committee of private citizens to be named by the President. The commission's intelligence task force points to the "possibility of the growth of license and abuses of power where disclosures of costs, organization, personnel and functions are precluded by

But the commission's watch-dog system would provide more than a check on the efficiency of the intelligence effort. It would reassure the people and inspire greater confidence in activities which must remain largely secret.

Besides adequate checks on the agencies, the task force stresses the importance of developing the skilled and dedicated personnel essential to the success of intelligence activities.

Its recommendations include provisions for lifting the prestige of the intel-ligence forces, developing career incentives, increasing flexibility in recruitment and relieving the shortage of trained personnel

Political Overtones -

Even the Democratic politicos concede that existing conditions, if they continue through 1956, will make it more difficult to turn the Eisenhower administration out of office, but they maintain that next year will be the exception that proves the rule.

They assert that all the interim elections for the past two years clearly show gains for their party that could herald a Democratic landslide in 1956.

From the standpoint of the observer trying to ascertain now the political trade winds are blowing the Republican arguments are much more convincing than the Democratic claims. Certainly, there is little reason to believe that if an election were being held now the people would replace President Eisenhower, no matter who might be running against him.

Because Mr. Eisenhower is generally considered to be more popular than the Republican party itself, it is possible, of course, that he could be reelected while the Democrats retained their control of both branches of Congress.

Within a very short time we will be getting conflicting Democratic and Republican appraisals as to what the congressional session now nearing a close

GOP leaders already aer hitting out at the failure of the Democratic Congress to enact portions of the Eisenhower program, especially in the medical and educational fields.

The Democrats assert that they nave supported those phases of the President's program that were good for the country and blocked those parts which were not

One reply from the Democrats, which the Republicans have a difficult time controverting, is that they have given President Eisenhower more support in the field of foreign affairs than he would have received if his own party had been in control of Congress.

A bitter fight will be waged in the closing stages of this legislative session over the continuance of the temporary 1 per cent increase which was added to the State income tax a few years ago.

The strong feeling on this issue stems from the fact that a reduction was made in the income tax for 1954 but that the full tax was restored for this year.

Democratic leaders charge that was a bit of political legerdemain intended to strengthen the Republican cause for the 1954 State election, and they are drawing up their battle lines for a knock-down struggle on the matter, when it finally comes out of committee.

How long that will delay the prorogation of the Legislature remains to be seen, but if this session runs much longer, the sensible thing for the law-makers to do would be to recess for the summer and return to Beacon Hill in the fall.

Calm deliberations on important measuresures are hardly possible, when the heat and humidity shorten the tempers of the legislators or result in a large num-

There never has been any real question but that the temporary 1 per cent income tax, which raises in the vicinity of $20,-000,000 annually, is needed to balance the State budget for the fiscal year which started July 1.

Governor Herter probably would be more anxious than any individual legislator to accomplish a tax cut for next year, if it were possible to do so, even though the people might get the idea that their taxes went down in election years and up in the off-years in a sort of escalator

But the unfortunate fact is that the State needs the $20,000,000 to perform its public services and pay salaries, and if would make a success out of their individual lives. She begel's children will always stand some new tax would have to be enacted to some new tax would have to be enacted to take its place. Politically, it's always more painful to adopt a new tax than it is to continue an old one to which the public

What will happen if the Democratic-controlled House of Representatives puts up its back and refuses to extend the 1 per cent income tax levy?

Governor Herter could not and would not allow the Legislature to prorogue without balancing the State budget, and a war of nerves might develop between the executive and legislative branches of the State government.

That, of course, may not happen at all. Republican House members almost to a man will support the tax, if they are told it is needed, and the likelihood is that enough Democrats eventually will join with them to assure the passage of the

The entire situation, however, is fraught with political undertones. Some legislators on Beacon Hill vote in favor of practically every pay raise proposal that comes before them but then turn around and oppose any tax that is sug-gested to pay the increase they have

Now on its way to Governor Herter's desk, for instance is a bill calling for a flat $360-a-year salary increase for 30,-000 State workers. No measure has been or will be enacted to raise the money necessary to grant such a raise. The Governor is opposed to the theory of flat-rate increases, but even if he weren't, he would have no alternative but to veto the bill, when it reached him, because funds are not available to pay the hike.

Legislators who supported the measure will be able to go to State employees in next year's campaign and tell them they voted to give them a raise. It's not likely that they'll mention that they did not give anythought to digging up the money to financing the boost.

Governor Herter this week signed into law a bill making members of the Legislature eligible for pensions.

His action recalled the tremendous furore which resulted in the repeal of the legislative pension laws at a special session of the Legislature in September, 1952.

In all fairness, however, there is lit-tle similarity between the law which has been placed back on the statute books and those which aroused a wave of public indignation a little less than three years

The new law simply gives the legislat-ors the same retirement rights as all State employees and makes them eligible for modest pensions to which they themselves contribute. A Senator or Representative will be permitted to decide for himself whether he wants to join the retirement system and have regular deductions made from his salary. He also would be required to make a lump sum payment covering the amount that would have ben taken out of his pay in the past.

There are some persons who are opposed to anay pensions whatever for legislators under any circumstances.

But the fact is that many House and Senate members serve long periods on Beacon Hill and by present-day standards receive a fairly modest salary. Some of them neglect or give up their own businesses. nesses. A law granting them the same pension rights as regular State employees is not unreasonable.

A news agency in Communist East Germany announces that it is preparing two books describing Sioux Indian Chief Sitting Bull's "heroic battles" against his "American oppressors."

WASHINGTON, July 20—The President is in Geneva for the international conference which began Monday. There is much speculation in Washington about what will develop at this conference "at the summit"—a phrase which has been terribly over-

There is general agreement that the American people are There is general agreement that the American people are fortunate in having as their two top representatives President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles, who know Europe and surrounding regions like a book, and who have a very broad experience in foreign negotiations of the most far-reaching and delivate character. cate character.

There is also general agreement that our attitude should be one of hope and not of pessimism. If America takes the position that little good can come from the conference, the rest of the world will blame America if in fact little does come from it.

The President recently said: "We . . . go there with very hopeful attitudes, but that hope has got to have greater food on which to nourish itself before it can become anything like espectation."

The President's comments on the meeting at his last news conference were impressive in their straightforwardness and sincerity. He alluded to the difficulty of the enforcement of agreements for disarmament, involving as they do international examinations or inspections. At the end of the conference, he gave eloquent and heartfelt expression to a view which may well become historic—that in the final analysis peace could only be based on mutual trust.

He said: "We must search diligently for some means to . . . proceed a little way toward the creation of that trust which must, in the long run, be the foundation of any real peace."

The American people must not be deceived by a tricky question about the banning of atomic weapons on which our opponents will probably try to capitalize. Already popular polls on the subject have been taken in European countries, and have shown a large majority favoring such a ban. Clearly, any country which stands out against it will be blamed as a war-

The trickiness and falseness of this issue must be exposed and recognized at once for what it is. Everybody wants to ban The only question is how that can be done safely and effectively. Are we to dump our atomic armaments into the ocean, and solemnly agree to produce no more, on the mere promises of others who in the past have shown complete disregard of their most solemn obligations?

Let us proclaim that the question here is not whether we are willing to ban atomic armaments, but that the only question is how that can be done with a proper regard to the safety of the 165 millions of people who dwell in our country.

President Eisenhower last week tossed off almost casually a profound remark about peace, while addressing informally a group of students from foreign countries.

He said that people do not want wars, that only misguided people, so that if we are true to our own principles, we will not be war-makers. His remarks showed clarifications. leaders did; that we in America have government by and for the war-makers. His remarks showed clearly his love of peace and faith in America.

Two Big Reasons

WHY PONTIAC IS YOUR BEST BUY!

200 HORSEPOWER V-8

A complete list of all the reasons why a 1955 Pontiac is your best new-car buy could easily be as long as the car itself.

We have simply chosen two of the most important reasons to give you a quick and compelling picture of how much car you really get when you make the very smart move to Pontiac!

There is one more vital fact which does not show in the picture above. That is the striking fact of Pontiac's very modest price. For the truth is, Pontiac prices are easily within the reach of any new-car budget—even the smallest!

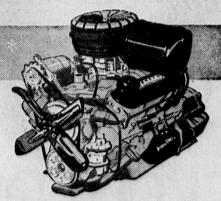

These, we feel, are three important reasons why Pontiac is today's outstanding value-power, wheelbase and price. But there are many, many more! Take beauty, for example. There is no car on the road with such unmistakable glamour as a Pontiac! Coming, going or standing still this magnificent car stands out in any company.

Comfort? Well, just get inside that is obviously your car!

Children Give Examples of Life-Saving

More than 500 people wit-nessed the annual Red Cross Crystal Lake Sunday, with a large number of children participating under the direction of Miss Claire McCarthy, swim-ming director and Gilbert J. Champagne, chairman of the Red Cross Water Safety and First Aid Services of the New-ton Red Cross.

Miss McCarthy gave a resume of the Water Safety Program and announced that all classes will continue through the 19th of August and that the adult classes will continue on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 until 8 p.m. There are no classes on rainy days.

Speakers on the program were: Mayor Howard Whitmore, ..., William Falconer, chapter chairman of the Newton Red City of Newton, Falconer expressed his thanks to all the parents and instructors, and also to the children who partici-pated in the program. He ex-plained that the swimming program was only one of the many services given through this chapter. He thanked the people for the support which they had Fund Campaign in March, and added that it was interesting to note that this year's swimming enrollment was greater than

The two local teams were scheduled to duel last night, starting at 6 o'clock at the Albemarle Playground in Newton-ville. The victor will meet the winner of last night's Brookline-Wellesley game later this week. The Newton North All-Stars, outstanding Little League team in Greater Boston for several years, got as far as Monday night's semi-finals before drop-ping a 4-1 decision to the Wel-lesley American aggregation.

Of the five Newton teams entered in the tournament, New-ton East was the first to be eliminated. Playing shorthand-ed with many of the original all-star nominees away on vaca-tion trips, East was ousted 7-0 day than most adults realize, by the strong Wellesley American entry Friday night.

Newton Central was second to "bite the dust," being at Water town.

Newton South

Newton South opened its drive for the District Two title with a 7-2, late-inning blasting of Arlington West last week at

Behind 1.0 from the opening frame through four innings, Newton pinch-hitters started to connect and the local squad was off and running. With the first two pinch-hitters reaching base to open the fifth frame, South tallied four times to put the game in the satchel.

Just to make certain of the victory, Ronnie Marino other substitute - blasted the ball over the leftfield fence with two on in the final inning.

Despite the one-hit performance, Watertown managed to pick up four runs in its first time at bat on three walks, two passed balls, a hit batter, a wild pitch and an error by the catcher. But Newton wasn't too worried by the rally, since the locals had tallied 10 times in its first appearance at the plate.

Leading the Newton onslaught were Zeno and third baseman Billy O'Connell, who each knocked out two singles and a home run. Zeno batted five runs across the plate and O'Connell six, Newton got a total of 15 hits in the romp.

South came up with another big opening inning Monday night, scoring five times before Arlington South could come to bat. Ronnie Marino went Zeno's pitching feat one better, allowing no hits in the five-inning

O'Donnell continued to wield a hot bat, knocking in five runs with two singles and a double. Three more Newton runs had crossed the plate in the top of the sixth when the game was called off because of gathering first with a single tally. Marty Ryan, whose speed was destined to decide Monday's tussle, walked, stole second, third and was halfway home when the rat-tled catcher let a pitch go through him.

Newton West had a harder row to hoe in its two tournament games before qualifying for last night's semi-final. It won its first test Saturday at Gill Stadium, Auburndale, over Watertown West 4-2.

The winning runs were fashioned in the fifth on a four play wallop by third baseman Bobby Gallagher with Ryan and rightfielder Dave Thompson on base. Two walks and a bad throw from the outfield allowed the losers to score their two runs the same inning.

The winning pitcher was Rog-er Urell, who allowed four scat-tered hits and walked only two, with both tallying. He struck out eight and was robbed of a #### Better Enforcement?

336,000 points have been charged against the operating records of approximately 89,000 persons as a result of 300,-000 involvements being processed at the Registry of Motor Vehicles during the first 18 months of operation of the Mas-sachusetts Point System. This represents slightly more than four per cent of the almost two million persons holding licenses in Maassachusetts.

These facts were revealed at a meeting of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee which was held in the office of Rudolph F. King, Registrar of Motor Vehicles and Committee chairman.

There has been an increase of 11 per cent in the number of violation notices received and an increase of 14.6 per cent in the number of court abstracts received during the first six months of 1955 over those received during the corresponding period in 1954. This probably indicates not so much a real increase in violations of the motor vehicle law but rather more intensive enforcement activity due to a better understanding gained through experience in administering and enforcing this new legislation.

It might be well here to re-state the schedule of penalties based on point accumulation. That schedule is as follows:

berless. Recognition of his abilities had over the country. One of his most noted achievements is the process by 5 points: warning to be given or conference to be had, or both.

8 points: license subject to suspension. 12 points: Registration subject to suspension.

No Help to Business

Admittedly, the popularity of television has seriously effected the moving picture business. Yet in all truthfulness it must be said that as of today, television has a long way to go before it will even equal the pictorial quality of motion pictures.

Likewise, the motion picture industry has yet much to learn, even after all these years. The vast majority of persons who like moving pictures have long since ceased to go, as was their custom not too many years ago, simply and solely because many of the pictures being produced are junk, pure and simple, and in many cases border on lewd thoughts and actions, not to mention gangsters, mob scenes and other highly questionable tripe.

But every once in a while a motion picture is produced which is a credit to the industry and a delight to view. This is particularly true of those pictures which contain good, beautiful and ever-lasting

In one instance, perhaps a too infrequent instance, we witnessed the production of "Deep In My Heart", based on the life of Sigmund Romberg. It was a spectacular musical with beautiful and neverto-be forgotten songs. We could have enjoyed it immensely but for one thing. That one thing was teen-agers.

Despite the beauty of the picture and the music, this group of teen-agers were more interested in talking, giggling and in general disturbing those who wanted to sit in silence and absorb the beauty of the music. Now all teen-agers who go to the movies should not be placed in that category, yet it seems that at every moving picture show there is that small element of teen-agers who are more bent on disturbing the rest of the audience than they are in watching the picture.

why these teen-agers spend their good money to go to a movie and then indulge in just about everything other than paying attention to the picture, is beyond in a attention to the picture, is beyond in a disconsistency of the Combined Jewish Appear. These are only a few of the honors bestowed upon Joe in attention to the picture, is beyond business admitted to his busin

Yet for all this condition, this annoyance could easily and quickly be banished, once and for all, if movie theatre managers would have their theatres patrolled and the disturbers quickly and quietly ejected, with no refund. Surely those who go to the movies for a night's entertain-ment are entitled to witness the production in peace and quiet.

If certain teen-agers must make their presence known, a better place for that practice would be out on the street, or better still, kept at home.

How to Save $15,000,000

A Hoover Commission Task Force has sliced enough government red tape in four months to save government and industry a total of $15 million annually, the Commission reported last week.

Another $100 million could be saved, the Commission said, if the Administration follows through with projects the task force was unable to complete for lack

The savings of $15 million was brought about on only 26 representative paperwork items through cooperation of industry committees and government agencies

Examples of the savings follow: Airlines expect to save $200,000 a year and elimination of 960,000 forms under a plan accepted by the Bureau of Customs, subject to approval by the Treasury Department, for simply rubber-stamping airway bills and invoices on approved shipments through customs.

The trucking industry expects to save $1,300,000 annually through the negotiation of an agreement with the Interstate Commerce Commission for a 25 percent reduction in the record-keeping requirements for that type of business.

In reviewing the wilderness of 4,700 different reports, forms and question-

This week, The Graphic salutes Joseph Greenbaum of 57 Graylinn road, Newton Center. Joe Greenbaum is really two people, one a brilliant business administrator who created with his brain and hands probably the finest printing house in New England, the other a humble humanitarian who has always been willing to share the bounties of his success with those less fortunate than he.

Joe started his industrial career selling newspapers at the age of eight. By his 16th year he was foreman of a printing plant with 30 people. A year later while still working days he formed the Court

Although busy at one job all day and nursing his own business at night, he still found time to marry his lovely wife Celia. When young Greenbaum was 18 the Court Square Press had started to pay dividends. He help of older and wiser people employed 75 people and had had played an important part moved to larger quarters. Exnewsboy Greenbaum now employs over 500 people in four separate enterprises, the Court Square Press, Greentree Pub. to aid others. He is a sponsor lishing Co., Ace Carbon and of the Newsboys' Foundation Ribbon Co., and the Joseph and is very active in Junior Realty Trust.

The responsibility for the failure of the legislative wheels to turn more rapidly, however, does not rest with the rank and file members, who are pretty well abreast of their work. The fault lies with a few committee chairmen in key places who have kept matters bottled up instead of reporting them.

There is no justification, for example, for the long delay in acting on the bill to extend the temporary State taxes which must be continued in order to balance the State budget.

Everyone on Beacon Hill realizes that the temporary tax bill eventually will be enacted, but it was pigeon-holed for a prolonged period by the joint legislative committee on taxation. Yet, when the measure finally was brought out of committee this week, it was by a tight 8-7 vote, with seven Democrats dissenting from the majority re-port and one lone Democrat lining up with the Republicans in support of the

Meanwhile, Democratic House members in a party caucus served notice that they intend to make a battle for a 25 percent slash in the State income tax levy.

It would be good news, indeed, if the State's financial picture were such that a 25 percent cut in next year's State income tax bills were possible. Unfortunately, that is not the fact.

The Democratic lawmakers will simply be putting on a political act and en-deavoring to sell the public the idea that they are trying to lower their in-come taxes but that the Republicans won't let them do it.

Some other new tax would be needed if the income tax were slashed. No substitute tax, however, has been offered, and none will be suggested.

Figures compiled by the State comptroller, who originally was appointed by a Democratic Governor, show that the State budget cannot be balanced unless all the temporary taxes are extended. Governor Herter cannot allow the Legislature to prorogue unless it does balance the budget.

That means that the Governor will keep the Legislature in session until it votes for the continuance of all the temporary taxes. He has no other alterna-

Eventually, of course, the tax bill will be approved in its entirety, with a size-able number of Democrats joining with the Republicans in approving the measpresident of Temple Emanuel does not lie in the multiple com-and also serves as a trustee of mendations he has received but to ridiculous extremes. against any fare increase rather than risk the wrath of their citizens who use the transit system.

Thus, the Mayors, city managers and selectmen were able to call for a reduction of the MTA deficit on one hand and oppose any fare rise on the other.

Now, however, there is a proposal in the Legislature that the responsibility hike he vested in the officials of the 14 cities and towns in the transit district. Under the terms of a bill endorsed this week by the joint legislative committee on metropolitan affairs, the local officials would be given the power to veto any rise in fares. There appears to be an excellent chance that the measure will be enacted into law, although some doubt exists as to how Governor Herter would look upon it.

The proposed new law would enable the city and town officials to block any fare increase to which they were really opposed. It would place them squarely on the spot and force them to decide where the money should be obtained to pay the MTA's bills.

Patrick J. McGinnis may be a wizard at railroad financing, but his suggestion that the city of Boston stop building ga-rages downtown in order that the plight of the MTA will not be worsened is not likely to solve any problems for municipations officials. That would be comparable to hitting a patient over the head with a axe in order to remove a pimple.

While the Democratic and Republican blocs in the State Legislature make quite a show of party unity and solidarity, the fact is that a number of intra-party feuds simmer under the surface, and there is some speculation as to whether they may explode into the open before prorogation.

Republican Senators John Adams of Andover and Philip A. Graham of Hamilton have been bitter verbal antagonists on a number of occasions. Graham publicly attacked Adams earlier in the session, and Adams passes up no op-portunity to hit back at his fellow Republican.

One Democratic Senator frequently bolts his party. Another didn't bother to show up at all for Monday's session, and as a result the Democratic minority suffered several one-vote defeats.

In the House Representative John Zamparelli of Medford has directed repeated blasts at his fellow townsman, Speaker Michael F. Skerry, although Skerry has done an excellent job of directing the sessions in the lower legislative chamber.

A number of the Republican House members treat each other with frigid politeness because of the feeling over the expected fight between GOP House Leader Charles Gibbons and Lieutenant Gov-ernor Sumner G. Whittier for their party's nomination for Governor.

One Republican legislator hasn't put in an appearance at the State House in months. GOP leaders would like to declare his seat vacant, but they couldn't get the Neither political party on Beacon Hill could be described accurately as "one happy family," despite their occasional attempts to convey that impression.

RANDOM CLIPPINGS

The bottom fell out of a four-acre lake in Paducah, Ky., recently. Only puddles remained. A large black hole of undetermined depth yawned at one side. It had swallowed the water and many fish. One explanation offered was that the bottom collapsed because the limestone further down had been honeycombed by underground streams.

John Burns had a unique explanation as to why he had taken his wife on 66 consecutive rides through the Tunnel of Love in New Jersey's Palisades Park. "It took me 66 trips to talk her into giving me a divorce." he declared.

Barbara A. Dion Weds Lt. Kramer

For her marriage July 16 to Lt. Peter Kramer, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kramer Jr. of Arlington, Miss Barbara Ann Dion wore a gown of white tissue taffeta designed with an apron of rose point Chantilly lace which extended from the neckline to the hemline.

The empire waist of the gown was outlined with a taffeta cumberbund and a full bustle back fell into a sweep train. Her bridal veil of imported French illusion was caught to a coronet embroidered with seed pearls and her prayer book held seven Phaelenopsis orchids and bouvardia which fell into a short cascade.

The Rev. Rollin Tingley offi nated at the 3 o'clock ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Arlington and the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Louis Dion of Auburndale, was given in marriage by her father. A reception followed at the Winchester Country Club in Winchester.

Mrs. Thomas Hardie, II, sister of the bride, came from her home in Pumpkin Hill, Bal timore, Maryland, to be her sister's matron of honor. She wore a short French blue lace dress with a scoop neckline trimmed with blue satin and having a full skirt. She carried white carnations and batch-elor buttons. Miss Joan Doyle of Chestnut Hill and Mrs. Richard P. Kramer of Lexington, were bridesmaids and wore gowns identical to the honor attendant.

Richard P. Kramer of Lexington, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Peter Stevens Jr., of Bedford; Lt. Richard Anderson from Arlington, Kenneth P. Webb, also graduated from Endicott Junior his bride will make their home of Arlington and Thomas Gary College and is a member of the

The "Battle with Red Stick" included 18 painted, whooping warriors from Newton and Wa ban, attacking the indomitable Davy and his friend Russell. They fought loudly and bravely and "died" with enthusiasm: Mark White, Mike Cohen, Jeffrey Bergart, Jerome Goldstein, Richard Shotz, Howard Levin, ent-spectators last Thursday in Stuart Yanoff, Mark Dubrow, Monroe Sharaf, Richard Weinberg, Jr., Robert Bunshaft, Rob ert Myerson, Alec Sutherland. Roger and Bruce Katz and David Selligar, of Newton, and Robert Papper, Alan Schwartz and Bruce Firger of Waban. The final scene, the Battle of the Alamo, took place behind a rough log barricade, with the hard pressed heroes firing anything from board guns to water pistols. Following the pageant, all campers participated in a water carnival in the Elbanoh scot pool, while parents observed and drank punch provided by the oldest girl campers for the benefit of CARE packages for Korea and served from rustic buckets labelled "Davy Crockett Drank Here."

200 Homes Lose Electric Power When Tree Falls

Electricity serving more than 200 homes in West Newton was cut out for nearly three hours Sunday afternoon when a gust of wind knocked a tree across

Derby street near Edward road, West Newton, at about 3:30 p.m., during a brief rainstorm. In addition to snapping a primary supply line, the tree also blocked traffic for two hours. Boston Edison workmen had to string a new line before they were able to restore service.

Berenson-Morris Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Berenson of Newton Centre announce the marriage of their daughter, Toby, to Mr. Joseph Charles Morris, son of Mr and Mrs. Murray Morris of Long Island, N. Y. The wedding took place recently at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride graduated this year from Wheaton College. Mr. Morris was graduated from Lowell Technological Institute, School of Engineering in 1952. The couple will live in Ruther ford, N. J., after a honeymoon in Bermuda.

Miss Greenfield Engaged; Plans August Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Greenfield of Newton Centre announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Eve to Mr. Jerome Jawitz of Washington, D.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam uel Jawitz of New York.

Miss Greenfield attended Boston Teachers College and was graduated from the Katharine Gibbs School of Boston. Mr. Jawitz is a graduate of Georgia School of Technology, and is a member of Tau Epsilon Phi An August wedding is plan-
